THIS CITY IS TO BE A CHICKEN

Evidently there is a decided "back to the chicken" farm movement going on in Ogden, according to the reports from real estate men and poultry supplies dealers. The real estate men state that they have received more calls and letters from men de-siring to enter the chicken business than ever before and the supply deal-ers report that the sale of chicken feed and other supplies this spring is exceedingly brisk. A large major-ity of those who are buying supplies re students in the different schools.
According to dealers in real estate re is usually in the spring a demand for small places situation out "back to the farm' movement strikes many in the spring. but they state that this season the demand is for places of a few acres where chickens can be profitably

At the time of the Ogden poultry show the statement that Ogden could become noted over the United States as a chicken raising community by the aid of a little boosting was made and that prediction is beginning to be fulfilled. That those who intend to enter the chicken business intend to do so with up to date methods is indicated by the statement of dealer in incubators, who stated that the majority of prospective purchasers who entered his store desired one or more incubators for their chicken farms and their knowledge of the several styles of incubators was shown by the questions asked.
